DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C.

112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 42 recites the limitation "said computer," There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claims 43 and 44 recite the limitation "the computer," There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claims 29 and 34 recites the limitation "a charging apparatus" twice in the claim on lines 1 and 3 for claim 29 and lines 1 and 4 for claim 36. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. Claims 35, 37-39, 41-44 are also rejected based on the rejected independent claims.

Claims 29 and 34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The newly amended claims 29 and 34 replaced the claims language stating "communication channel connected to a computer", with "communication channel connected to a charging apparatus." As stated in the specification, the communication channel is connected to a computer and via the computer communication the communication channel is connected to the charging apparatus, 40. (See specification pgs. 19-25) As read by Examiner, claims 29 and 34 states that the communication channel (50/51) is directly connected to "a charging apparatus", however, based on the previous rejection of lack of antecedent basis for the limitation "a charging apparatus" Examiner is unsure to what the communication channel is directly connected. For example, is unsure if the charging apparatus on line 1 of claim 29 the same charging apparatus mention on line 3. Furthermore, the newly amended claims 29 and 34 replaced the claims language stating "a charging circuit for apply electric power, with which it is supplied through said power supply line from said computer", with "a charging circuit for apply electric power, with which it is supplied through said power supply line from communication apparatus." As stated in the specification, both the computer and the communication apparatus supply electric power. (See specification, pg. 24) As read by Examiner is claim now states that the electric power is supplied solely from the communication apparatus which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made. Claims 35, 37-39, and 41-44 are also rejected based on the rejected independent claims.
